

Growing Organics:

Moving Hawai'i's Organic Industry Forward

A day of workshops and presentations for Hawai'i's organic food producers, distributors, retailers, consumers, and advocates designed to inform and empower Hawai'i's organic industry.

- ♦ Keynote address by Scott Enright, Deputy Director, Hawai'i Department of Agriculture
- ♦ Presentation of findings and recommendations from the Organic Industry Advisory Group, including a session to gather additional community input
- ♦ Luncheon speaker Derek Kurisu, Executive Vice President, KTA Super Stores: "Developing a Hawai'i Organic Brand"
- ♦ Discussion of what Hawai'i's organic industry needs from a non-profit or trade organization
- ♦ Educational Workshops:
 - Developing a Legislative Agenda for Hawai'i's Organic Industry
 - Becoming Certified Organic: It's Easier Than You Think
 - Meet the Buyers: Distributors and Retailers of Organic Products
 - Food Safety: Best Practices and Certification for Organic Operations

Monday, October 28, 2013

9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

King Kamehameha's
Kona Beach Hotel

Kailua-Kona, Hawai'i Island

For more information and to register, visit <http://www.laullimacenter.org/growingorganics.html> or call The Kohala Center at 808-887-6411.

Funded through the Hawai'i Department of Agriculture-USDA Agricultural Marketing Service Specialty Crop Block Grant Program.

THE KOHALA CENTER
education. environment. empowerment.

The Kohala Center is an equal opportunity provider and employer.

