

'Ōhi'a Seed Conservation Workshop

Kona
Hawai'i Island

This workshop is part of a free series in the Rapid 'Ōhi'a Death Seed Banking Initiative, which aims to expand capacity for collection and banking of 'Ōhi'a seeds across all islands in response to the ROD crisis. It is free and open to anyone who wants to learn how to properly collect, handle, and process 'Ōhi'a seeds, without doing harm to trees or forests, using methods that protect seed viability and ensure conservation value for future restoration.

Kona Workshop

Saturday, September 23, 2017

9am–12pm or 1–4pm

Hawai'i Community College

Pālanui, Panini Building,

Rm 126/127

73-4225 Ane Keohokalole Hwy,

Kailua-Kona, Hawai'i Island

To learn more about the ROD Seed Banking Initiative, workshop details, and registration: www.ohialove.com

Questions: Marian Chau at (808) 988-0469 or mmchau@hawaii.edu

Learn more about Rapid 'Ōhi'a Death: www.rapidohiadeath.org

Sponsor: HAWAII TOURISM
AUTHORITY

